

Recommendations

The information gained from this project can be used to _____

_____. The information can also be used to _____

A question that was raised when the experiment was conducted was _____

_____. If I were to do this experiment again I would

Recommendations

The information gained from this project can be used to reduce the amount of soil erosion that farmers experience in furrow irrigation systems.

_____ . The information can also be used to prevent erosion anywhere that erosion would have a harmful or undesired effect on soil

A question that was raised when the experiment was conducted was if other types of dried vegetation such as grass clippings, leaves, or weeds would work as well as straw to prevent soil erosion.

_____ If I were to do this experiment again I would conduct more trials at different inclines to see if the soil erosion control products would work the same. I would also use different types of soil, such as clay or sand.
